Participation

We currently use the highest quality 1.5m and 1.2m TPU Balls that can serve a broad demographic. Here are some general idea's that may help you decide.

Age limit to use bubble balls ?

Bubble soccer, football and some of the more aggressive games are mostly for ages 13 and up when done in a competition type format. Other fun games especially in the backyard can be setup for much younger ages. However combination, of height, weight and strength of each person can contribute to how comfortable one feels playing.

Is there a weight limit to use bubble balls?

The minimum weight depends on the height and strength of each person. We recommend a maximum weight of 230 lbs for the adult 1.5m balls. One could still play at heavier weight but it would put more pressure on the equipment and we may determine it to be a safety and equipment concern. If you can fit into the ball comfortably you should be fine. Taller and heavier players may experience some challenges getting in and out, but it just takes a little practice.

Is there a height limit to use bubble balls?

We have two sizes of bubble balls for usage:

1.5m balls: Recommended approximate height of 4'11" – 6' 4"

1.2m balls: Recommended approximate height of 3'11" – 5' 6"

These are approximate ranges as it also depends on your body type and how the back straps fit.

Basic Game Rules

Number 1 Rule: HAVE FUN

Signed Waiver: A Waiver must be signed for each player. If under 18 years old, it must be signed by a parent or guardian. In cases of group rentals, such as parties and team bonding, the renter can sign for all participants.

No blindsided hits or unnecessary rough play, such as If a player is facing in the opposite direction it is ok to give them a nudge. However no full speed on bumps to a player that is not looking. Purposely attempting to blindside and injure another player will stop play, and you will be taken out and not allowed to play again.

All play stops: immediately when the coordinator blows the whistle.

You must remain: in the Bubble when in the field of any game play.
